Art Unit: 1623

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 34-37 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 31 of copending Application No. 09/912,957. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed method is encompassed by the method in the copending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gregg et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,883,109).

Gregg et al disclose a composition containing orlistat and DEAE-Sephadex (column 22, lines 42-55).

Claims 1-10 and 12-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gregg et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,883,109).

Gregg et al disclose a composition containing orlistat and a bile sequestrant (column 22) and a method of administering said composition. Gregg et al further teach the addition of such conventional agents to pharmaceutical compositions as binder, lubricant, disintegrant, sweetener and filler (column 23, lines 1-11 column 24, lines 16-40). But Gregg et al do not disclose the specific amounts encompassed by the instant claims. However, since to vary the amounts of the active ingredients would have been within the ordinary skill in the art at the time the instant invention was made the claimed compositions and methods are deemed prima facie obvious over Gregg et al.

Claims 1-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gregg et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,883,109) in combination with Behr et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,545,414).

Gregg et al disclose a composition containing orlistat and a bile acid sequestrant but do not disclose the use of cyclodextrin as a bile acid sequestrant. However, since Behr et al disclose cyclodextrin to be a known bile acid sequestrant (column 8, lines 25-30), a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the instant invention was made would have been motivated to use cyclodextrin as a bile acid sequestrant in a composition disclosed by Gregg et al.
